Assisting Women-Owned SMEs Access Global Markets

The Hon Julie Bishop MP
Minister for Foreign Affairs and Trade
Australia

• Advancing women’s economic empowerment is an APEC policy priority that Australia strongly supports.

• At the APEC Ministerial Meeting in November 2015, Minister Bishop announced that Australia would fund an initiative for women-led, owned and managed businesses to gain better access to global export markets.

• Australia has run workshops addressing policies and practices that constrain the growth of women exporters in several APEC economies.

• Australia conducted a roundtable technical discussion with experts and stakeholders, including Austrade in Kuala Lumpur (June 2016), which sought to design and develop tailored capacity building training programs for targeted economies.

• Below is a program delivered in Lima in August 2016. It assisted trade promotion organisations (TPO) from Peru, Chile and Mexico in addressing the institutional and policy barriers preventing them from providing export market support services to women-led businesses.
